

Code of Conduct

Northstar's Business Ethics and Safeguards

The following is the official Code of Conduct for Northstar Strategy Group s.r.o.

Please read it carefully and forward any questions you may have to

legal@northstar-sg.com

This document was most recently edited 25
September 2026. Northstar commits itself to following its most recently published Code of Conduct. For maximum transparency, all previously published versions are available by request.

– A Message From Our CEO –

Anna
Anufrikova

"Northstar Strategy Group's mission is to build meaningful partnerships between communities, organisations, and institutions across Southeast Asia and Europe. We believe that collaboration is the foundation of sustainable development.

We recognise that many organisations across Southeast Asia are seeking to expand their partnerships, capacity, and reach, while just as many of our European partners are seeking meaningful engagement with the region.

Northstar exists to facilitate these connections, because we believe that partnership, built on listening and shared purpose, creates value for everyone involved.

Southeast Asia is a region of extraordinary talent, resilience, and opportunity. It is home to communities and institutions doing vital work every day. We are honoured to support that work, and we approach engagement with humility, respect, and a commitment to people.

We value integrity in this work, and we are committed to building our partnerships in a way that respects the dignity, agency, and expertise of everyone we engage with."

– Table of Contents –

Preamble	5
Who We are	5
Purpose and Scope	5
Guiding Principles	5
Professional Conduct	6
Confidentiality and Data Protection	7
Conflicts of Interest	7
Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption	8
Discrimination and Harrassment	8
Safe Work Environment	9
Safeguarding	9
Compliance with Law	9
Consequences of Violations	10
Advice and Guidance	10
Changes to This Notice	11

Preamble

Northstar Strategy Group s.r.o strongly believes that ethics are to be held in the highest regard for any company. Northstar takes great pride in its ethical approach to business.

The following Code of Conduct enables Northstar to stay consistent in its business practices and ensure that Northstar's employees, interns, and partners hold themselves to the highest standard of accountability. We believe this will yield exponential moral and ethical dividends to Northstar, and make sure we fulfill our obligations to the highest standard.

Who We are

Northstar Strategy Group s.r.o. ("Northstar", "we", "us", "our") is a company registered in the Czech Republic, with its registered office at Poděbradská 1067/7, 190 00, Prague, Czech Republic. We are registered with the Czech Chamber of Commerce as an s.r.o.

Our IČO is 300 45 991.

Purpose and Scope

This Code of Conduct sets out the standards of professional and ethical conduct expected of everyone who represents Northstar, regardless of role, contract type, or duration of engagement. It applies to our employees, interns, freelance contractors, consultants, and to partners acting on our behalf.

Guiding Principles

- Partnership — We believe sustainable development is best achieved through strong, long-term partnerships between organisations, institutions, and communities.

- ▶ Integrity — We maintain high standards of professionalism, transparency, and ethics in all of our activities.
 - ▶ Sustainability — Our recommendations strive to prioritise environmental responsibility, social wellbeing, and economic resilience.
 - ▶ Local & Global — We believe international networks must be combined with locally-grounded knowledge in order to deliver optimal solutions.
 - ▶ Respect — We treat everyone we work with, including, interns, contractors, colleagues, partner organizations, and the communities we serve, with dignity and fairness.
 - ▶ Accountability — We take ownership of our work and its outcomes.
 - ▶ Privacy — We protect and ensure with great care the privacy of our staff and partners.
 - ▶ Transparency — We endeavor to be as transparent as possible with all of our clients and workers.
-

Professional Conduct

Everyone representing Northstar—management, employees, and interns—is expected to:

- ▶ Perform assigned work responsibly, meet agreed deadlines, and communicate promptly about availability or delays.
- ▶ Act only within the scope of authority granted to them. No one may enter into contracts, make financial commitments, or otherwise bind Northstar without express written authorization.
- ▶ Represent Northstar's work, credentials, and affiliations accurately.
- ▶ Behave in accordance with the present Code and any of Northstar's other policies.
- ▶ Avoid conduct that could expose Northstar, its clients, or its partners to legal, financial, or reputational harm.

Confidentiality and Data Protection

Northstar handles sensitive information belonging to clients, donors, partner organizations, and individuals in the course of its work. Everyone engaged by Northstar must:

- ▶ Treat all confidential information with appropriate care, and not disclose or use it outside the scope of their engagement without authorization.
- ▶ Handle personal data in accordance with applicable data protection law, including the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) where applicable, and any Northstar data-handling policies or instructions.
- ▶ Take particular care with sensitive personal data (details to be found in GDPR Article 9(1)), accessing or processing it only when specifically necessary and authorized.
- ▶ Report any actual or suspected data breach or confidentiality incident promptly.

These obligations continue after an engagement with Northstar ends, for as long as the relevant information remains confidential.

- ❗ Further information may be found in Northstar's official Privacy Notice, available at northstar-sg.com

Conflicts of Interest

Everyone engaged by Northstar must avoid situations where personal interests, other professional relationships, or outside engagements could conflict, or appear to conflict, with Northstar's interests or those of its clients.

Any actual or potential conflict of interest must be disclosed to Northstar promptly, including relationships with competitors, clients, donors, or partner organizations that could affect the impartiality of one's work.

Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption

Given the nature of our work in institutional fundraising, donor engagement, and grant acquisition, Northstar holds a zero-tolerance standard for bribery and corruption.

No one representing Northstar may offer, give, solicit, or accept any bribe, kickback, or improper payment or benefit, whether to a donor, government official, partner organization, or any other party, in connection with Northstar's business.

Northstar will disclose and record all funds and assets in the appropriate accounting period.

- ! Northstar does not allow company funds, assets or information to be used for any illegal purpose, including: the purchase of privileges, immunities or other extrajudicial benefits through bribes, political contributions, or other illicit payments.
- ! Discovery of any of the aforementioned prohibited behaviours requires immediate notification to Northstar, and when unresolved and appropriate, to the responsible legal authorities.

Discrimination and Harrassment

Northstar is committed to an environment free from harassment, discrimination, and bullying. This applies to interactions with colleagues, supervisors, interns, contractors, and any partner organizations or Host Organisations with whom Northstar's people work.

Northstar basis all decisions on the basis of merit, skills, and personal achievement. We are committed to making accomodations for those with disabilities or who require special accomodations for religious, spiritual, or other reasons.

Northstar has a zero-tolerance policy for discrimination, bullying, or harassment on the basis of race, gender, nationality, religion, disability, age, sexual orientation, or any other protected characteristic.

Safe Work Environment

Northstar's business procedures are often conducted remotely, on account of our diverse international team. When applicable, however, Northstar takes great effort to provide a safe and healthy workplace for anyone working within, or visiting, Northstar facilities. Northstar will always follow, at a minimum, any local workplace health and safety laws and regulations.

! Any complaints related to an unsafe work environment should be immediately forwarded to legal@northstar-sg.com

Safeguarding

Where Northstar's work involves students, interns, or other individuals participating in placements, through, inter alia, university partnerships and Host Organisations, everyone involved must prioritize the safety and wellbeing of participants.

Concerns about safeguarding, misconduct, or the welfare of a student or intern must be raised immediately with a supervisor or designated point of contact, in accordance with the safeguarding arrangements applicable to that program and deliberated in the corresponding agreement.

Compliance with Law

Everyone engaged by Northstar must comply with all applicable laws and regulations in the jurisdictions where they work, including those governing employment, tax, data protection, anti-corruption, and immigration status.

Northstar expects contractors and freelancers to independently manage their own compliance obligations arising from their engagement.

Consequences of Violations

Violations of this Code may result in corrective action including but not limited to termination of employment, internship, or contractual engagement, and, where appropriate, referral to legal authorities.

The specific consequences of a serious breach are governed by the terms of the individual agreement applicable to the person or organization involved.

Advice and Guidance

The following is Northstar's guidance and official rules on how to seek further information or clarity on the rules found in the present Code of Conduct and raise complaints, comments, and concerns.

- ▶ Supervisors — If you are facing any difficulties within your current post or office from any of your coworkers or upper management, your first point of contact should be your immediate Supervisor, the contact details of whom should be in your contract and are available immediately upon request.
- ▶ For any further inquiries, email legal@northstar-sg.com. We will respond within one month, or explain if we need longer for a complex request.
- ▶ Third-Party Arbitrators — In the event that you would like clarity on any of the provisions in the present Code of Conduct, please feel free to contact any third-party interpreter. Northstar recommends the unaffiliated "Global Legal Organization."
- ▶ Northstar will always deal with notifications in good-faith, and prompt, good-faith notifications brought by an individual who has committed a violation of this Code or any of Northstar's policies will always be protected with confidentiality and will not be treated as a serious breach of this Code.
- ! Northstar welcomes anonymous notifications.

Changes to This Notice

We may update this notice from time to time, for example as our work evolves or as required by law. Material changes will always be communicated where appropriate.

– Contact –

! For any question about this notice or our business practices, contact us at legal@northstar-sg.com, or write to us at the following address:

Poděbradská 1067/7
190 00, Prague
Czech Republic

Northstar truly appreciates your trust and business. We will always strive for the highest levels of due diligence, and are always receptive to public feedback.

Thank you!